Week Report 8

Answers to Questions

What is VIM?

Vim is a text editor that can run in the terminal on all Unix devices.

What is nano?

Nano is a text editor for Unix using a command line interface.

Describe in your own words how to:

Start and quit vim

To start and quit vim you would type vim in the command line and to exit you would type :q! making sure you're not in insert mode.

What are the different vim modes:

The different modes on vim include command mode, insert mode, normal mode, visual mode, select and ex mode.

Insert text in vim

To insert text in vim you type "i" to go into insert mode. Then you can type freely.

Save a file in vim

To save a file in vim you must be in command mode and then type ":w" and can add a file name if you'd like to name it something.

Search for a word inside vim

To search for a specific word you can type "/" followed by the specified word. Delete text in vim To delete a word you can us the "dw" command and to delete a line you can use the "dd" command.